I'm an innovative software developer with 6 years experience in building pixel-perfect and customer-focused websites, UIs and server-side applications, deploying robust and secure APIs, meeting high standards web design, user experience, best practices, and speed. I aim to make a difference through my creative solution.

SKILLS

I bring a set of talents that I believe will be valuable. In my previous years, I stepped up my abilities in Typescript and JavaScript and in JavaScript Technologies like React, Nodejs and more providing a solid foundation for a senior full-stack developer position.

My innovation, people-centric nature, passion and eagerness to learn have afforded me excellent coding skills. I am excited to contribute my strengths and proficiency in communication toward the team's efforts. As a people person and personable communicator, my focus on building strong professional relationships will be a valuable asset to an organization.
